Young Man in Treuble.

B. L. Oden'hal, a well-known young rann, charged with being mixed up in the steal of cotton from the Norfolk and Western and Merchants and Miners' joint warehouse, was to-day sent on to the Corporation Court to answer the charge of grand larceny.

Mr. Oden'hal is charged with selling two of the bales of cotton. W. T. Williamson an employe of Lee Brothers & Co., cotton brokers, testified that Cden'hal sent two bales of cotton to thin to be sold on June 2d, claiming that they belonged to his father, and secured $135.53 on the sale. Later the firm found out that the father knew nothing about the transaction.

J. T. Veale, who was in charge of the warehouse, and who is jointly charged with the robbery of cotton, testified that he gave the cotion to Oden'hal to sell; that he gave the cotton to Oden'hal to sell; that he told kilm it was "over" too the sell; that he told kilm it was "over" to the own are charged with murder, two of whom are charged with sell the charge of the c
